Education

Full Stack Web Development Certification 06/2020 – present
University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN

Project-focused, intensive bootcamp that covers front-end and back-end technologies.

- Developed a web application, "Travel Japan", using JavaScript and RESTful APIs. The app allows users to search tourist destinations by city and view the main attraction, nearby restaurants, and weather for each city. They are also able to view an alert that contains a recommendation stating whether or not the attraction is deemed safe in light of covid19.
- Developed a code quiz that features a polished and responsive UI, along with dynamically updated HTML and CSS, powered by the JavaScript code. The app allows users to take a timed quiz and saves their high scores on local storage. Whenever the user answers incorrectly, time is subtracted from the clock; if the timer reaches zero, the game automatically ends.
